Blue Bag Life

Synopsis

A story gleaned from material collected over a lifetime. Lisa Selby, an artist and lecturer, has always documented her life in paint, words, photographs and film. As Lisa struggles to comprehend why her mother Helen didn't raise her, Helen dies. Helen was charismatic, articulate, beautiful and addicted to heroin. Lisa now begins to get to know the woman she never called Mother, through the things she left behind and the memories of people who knew her. Lisa's partner, Elliot, relapses on heroin and is incarcerated. Through her own sobriety and her love for Elliot, Lisa comes to understand addiction, and Helen, differently. She also uncovers a new possibility towards motherhood deep within herself.

Synopsis

In blood-soaked Tudor England, Katherine Parr, the sixth and last wife of King Henry VIII, is named Regent while tyrant Henry is fighting overseas. Katherine has done everything she can to push for a new future based on her radical Protestant beliefs. When an increasingly ailing and paranoid King returns, he turns his fury on the radicals, charging Katherine's childhood friend with treason and burns her at the stake. Horrified and grieving, but forced to deny it, Katherine finds herself fighting for her own survival. Conspiracy reverberates through the palace. Everyone holds their breath – for the queen to slip up, for Henry to take her head like wives before. With the hope for a future free of tyranny at risk, will Katherine submit to the inevitable for the sake of King and country?

Golda

Synopsis

On October 6th, 1973, under cover of darkness, on Israel's holiest day and during the month of Ramadan, the combined forces of Egypt, Syria, and Jordan begin a surprise attack on the Sinai Peninsula and the Golan Heights. Outnumbered and outgunned, Golda Meir (Helen Mirren) confronts the immediate, clear, and present danger of a ticking timebomb that she hoped never to face. Surrounded, isolated, and frustrated by the infighting of her all-male cabinet, with little hope of rescue, one woman is in a race against time to save millions of lives on both sides of the conflict.

Occupied City

DOC

Synopsis

The past collides with our precarious present in Steve McQueen's bravura documentary, informed by the book 'Atlas of an Occupied City (Amsterdam 1940-1945)' written by Bianca Stigter. McQueen creates two interlocking portraits: a door-to-door excavation of the Nazi occupation that still haunts his adopted city, and a vivid journey through the last years of pandemic and protest. What emerges is both devastating and life-affirming, an expansive meditation on memory, time, and where we're headed.

Red Herring

Synopsis

Aged 24, Kit was diagnosed with an incurable brain tumour. In a small town on the South Coast of England, his dad Lawrence, responds by throwing himself into a series of obscure diversion tactics. From growing herbal medicine in his spare room, to relinquishing his lifelong atheism and secretly attending a local synagogue, he begins to transform his identity for good. His estranged mum, a community nurse who spends her time caring for dying patients, can't cope with the idea of living through the death of her son and must find a way to reconnect with her son before time runs out.

What follows is Kit's journey into the depths of the soul. As both filmmaker and character, he examines the nuances of living with a terminal disease and dissects the fear that comes with it. The film weaves a tapestry of each character's experience that unravels from a single moment that tore their lives apart and creates a powerful portrait of a dysfunctional family battling with issues of spirituality, kinship and death, whilst proving that humour and love always prevail.

Synopsis

Dom and Yas' paths collide at the least opportune time: when Dom is ugly-crying in a toilet stall, steeling himself for an awkward meal with his ex, who cheated on him with his best friend. Nursing her own breakup wounds, freewheeling Yas decides to jump headfirst into the fray to lessen the sting as Dom's date. What follows is a day of impulsive and joyous mayhem, as these two 20-something Londoners roam Peckham through karaoke bars and playgrounds, all the while inching toward the possibility of opening their hearts again.

Tish

DOC

Synopsis

Tish Murtha was a photographer whose images of people on the margins of society in 1970s Newcastle challenged and documented the inequality she herself lived through and wanted desperately to escape. However, despite early acclaim for her work she was unable to make a living from photography and lived in poverty until her death. In this new feature length documentary we ask: who was Tish Murtha and why did she not receive her due? The documentary will question the value society places on working-class communities and working-class artists, both in the past and the present day.

The Unlikely Pilgrimage of Harold Fry

Synopsis

Harold Fry was never meant to be a hero. Until, one day, he receives a letter from his dying friend, Queenie Hennessy, addressed from a hospice far away in Northern England. He has not heard from her in 20 years. He has done his best to forget what happened between them. Writing a brief reply, Harold realises a letter is not enough. He will walk the length of England and save his old friend. Leaving his puzzled, frustrated wife Maureen behind, Harold embarks on a walk of redemption that gradually becomes a contemporary pilgrimage through modern Britain.

This is a coming-of-age story as Harold (and Maureen) rediscover themselves. It is also a love story. Not a romance, but a universal story about love. The love of partnership, children, and of parents. The love of neighbours, of friends who have made their own sacrifices, of strangers whose stories might be unknown to us, but are as complex as our own. Above all, it is about not forgetting to love oneself.

Synopsis

Stephen Fry's personal journey and essay tells the amazing story of how a group of Amsterdam's artists, musicians and members of the LGBTQ+ community, pulled off one of the most daring and far-reaching acts of sabotage in the history of the Dutch resistance.

Willem, a gay artist, and Frieda, a Lesbian cellist, forged identity papers for Jews without a "J" on them but when the Nazis began to check the false paperwork against real files they came up with a daring plan to blow up the Central Records Office but without harming anyone.

Your Fat Friend

DOC

Synopsis

Aubrey Gordon, writes anonymously as "Your Fat Friend" about what it means to be a very fat woman in the world. Her searingly honest writing describes in intimate, humorous and unflinching detail what it's like to be that fat person on the plane... and how the fantasies, peddled by a diet and wellness industry worth $26 billion a year, are on a par with the lies that Big Tobacco told the public in the 1950s. (95-98% of diets fail for lasting weight loss) ...and about her own fractured relationship to her body.

This isn't about "body positivity" co-opted by brands to sell fat-kinis to size 16 women; it's about fat justice and liberation with no limits. It has brought her an insatiable worldwide audience, a book deal and threats to her life.

Filmed over 6 years, we follow Aubrey's rise from anonymous blogger to best selling author and co-host of one of the biggest podcasts in the world and public figure. Chartsing how it feels to live in a very fat body, and the pain and triumph of trying to change your family... and a world where you just don't fit.

Synopsis

Two teenage boys from very different London backgrounds embark on a road trip North together. Nathan is running away from his foster home in search of his sister who he thinks lives in Scotland, while Sam is heading to the North-East of England to see his mum. After a chance encounter, Sam agrees to give Nathan a ride North in his mum's car, and as their impromptu adventure together takes an unexpected turn, the boys begin to open up and learn they have far more in common than they first thought.

Synopsis

It's 2006, and George - a small-town sixteen-year old - is on the road to complete social and academic failure. He dreams of being a star, knows he's a gifted musician - but no one else seems to agree... So, when Max - the son of a mega-famous musical duo - enrolls at his school and takes an interest in his music, George can't believe it! Neither can anyone else. But as the boys grow closer, George begins to question why he actually wants to spend time with Max... George is faced with a potential dream come true - if he can just figure out what that dream now really is...

Call Me Kate

DOC

Synopsis

Katharine 'Kate' Hepburn was definitive and distinctive, a force of nature, a once-in-a-generation talent, whose progressive and free-spirited nature defined her roles. She was nominated for twelve Academy Awards, winning a record four for Best Actress. Her life and career were defined by stunning highs and crushing personal lows, but she also remained in control of her own story, and her distinctive defiance and enduring talent make her an icon to generations of women today. As she herself said: "I never realised until lately that women were supposed to be the inferior sex."

This is a documentary for the outcasts, the misfits, the girls and boys uncomfortable in their own skin, who don't conform with traditional expectations. It is the universal story of how - like Kate - we must be true to ourselves, not the forces that shape us.

Synopsis

A film of love, loss and music set amongst the falling feathers of a chicken factory.

It's present day in industrial North Wales. Helen, in her late 30s, spends her nights packing chickens and her days caring for a dying mother-figure Gwen. She lives in a small room in the house her clingy ex-husband shares with his dim-witted girlfriend and their new baby. Helen's humdrum world takes an unexpected turn with the return of Joanne. They were the objects of the other's unspoken teenage passions. Encouraged by Helen, Joanne starts a playful wooing game that re-awakens their youthful feelings. As they fall in love and lust, Helen's zest for life returns but Joanne feels the walls closing in as she faces something much darker from her past. Helen's world is shattered when Gwen dies and Joanne's painful memories cause her to flee. Separated and alone, both women reflect on their unfulfilled chance. Eventually, they find the courage to let go of the past and allow their love to win.

Synopsis

After the death of his wife, Kenzaburo (60s) and his son Toshi (30s) receive an unexpected letter from beyond the grave. Akiko, their wife and mother, asks them to scatter her ashes at the place she loved most as a child – Lake Windermere in England. Surprised by this unexpected request, father and son are initially at loggerheads over their next steps.

The two men, along with Toshi's wife Satsuki and young daughter Emi, eventually travel together to England from Tokyo to fulfil Akiko's final wish. But Kenzaburo keeps losing himself in memories of Akiko as his relationship with Toshi becomes increasingly fraught. With little knowledge of where he is going and barely any English, Kenzaburo abandons his family in London and heads to the Lake District on his own with Akiko's ashes. As he embarks on his quest, his memories of Akiko grow more painful. A lost and weary Kenzaburo stumbles onto the doorstep of a farmer, John, and his daughter Mary. With their help, Kenzaburo is finally able to set course once again toward Lake Windermere. But his true journey toward forgiveness and reconciliation will prove the hardest of all.

Edge of Summer (fka Knockers)

Synopsis

It's the summer of '91 when 11-year-old Evie meets local boy Adam on holiday in Cornwall. Caught in the strange hinterland between childhood and adolescence, a mysterious discovery down an old tin mine forces them to question what's real and what's not. The resulting game of 'monster in the dark' becomes a way for them to act out their frustrations and disillusionment with the adult world. They are being lied to and they don't want to be treated like little kids anymore.

EDGE OF SUMMER is about the stories we tell to protect our children, the ones we make up to protect ourselves and the dissonance between happiness and the truth.

The Effects of Lying

Synopsis

Naveen has lived his life by the book; he's a loyal husband and loving father. He's sacrificed everything for his family. But today is going to be different as, after finding his teenage daughter Simran secretly gorging herself and his dissatisfied wife Sangeeta in bed with his brother, secrets that have festered for decades long come pouring out and he's forced to face up to who he really is.

A dark comedy with real heart, that seeks to bring a new, urgent representation of contemporary British Asian families to international screens.

Synopsis

One night and one day in the life of a Joe, a musician in his mid 30s who's artistically and personally stagnating, feeling like everyone's overtaking him. After a failed gig he gets wasted, loses his keys and being too cheap for a locksmith he goes on a hungover one day journey in search for his keys, having several encounters that challenge his expectations of art and life as a whole.

The Flight of Bryan (fka Rise Above)

DOC

Synopsis

Genre-busting tale of how hippie dreamer, Bryan Allen, and heavily in debt father-of-three, Paul MacCready, together with a rag-tag team of neuro-diverse outliers, set out on a death-defying and madcap quest to untangle the mystery of human powered flight and in doing so win the most coveted prize in aviation.

Built from a remarkable trove of recently discovered 16mm footage along with an arsenal of innovative techniques, this uplifting story of ingenuity, courage and determination, challenges us to question the assumptions we make about society's outliers and reminds us of how the stories we tell can help us to understand and perhaps change the world.

The Glenarma Tapes

Synopsis

In spring 2020, five art students and two lecturers went missing in a remote forest in Ireland. What happened to them has remained unknown - until now.

Their last movements are pieced together from footage recovered from a police operation almost two years later, where it becomes clear that what started out as an innocent prank became a horrific fight for survival in the cold darkness of Glenarma Forest.

Presented as a true crime/found footage film, THE GLENARMA TAPES is the latest film to be produced through Northern Ireland Screen's New Talent Focus.

Home

Synopsis

The feature-length documentary is an attempt to answer one of the most vital questions in all our lives: What is the meaning of home? The film focuses on family, identity, emigration (through the lens of Polish-Irish-South African-English ties), as well as the circle of life, death and rebirth. The axis of the film is a house which connects and shelters, and which allows the lives of the characters to be transformed. It's genesis and inspiration was a seven-year collection of films and photographs covering the lives of residents who lived and worked under the cover, protection and generosity of the house's owner – a 90-year-old, bed-bound writer – Elizabeth – in Hampstead Garden Suburb, north London.

Hong Kong Mix Tape

Synopsis

Political engagement spawned the wildest of wonderlands for Hong Kong's creativity – but as a new law annihilates freedom of expression overnight, underground artists and creatives find themselves targets and their works being disappeared.

Immediately after the National Security Law was imposed in June 2020, the government started an endless list of words, images, books, slogans, songs that were now illegal - making so much that was 'normal' forbidden.

HONG KONG MIXTAPE weaves in the personal story of San, the director - as we immerse with her and these underground artists, including some of Asia's most iconic creators - rappers, dancers, performers, illustrators, stunt collectives - as they navigate this authoritarian new normal, and race to preserve Hong Kong's creative uprising.

Kneecap

Synopsis

When fate brings disillusioned music teacher JJ into the orbit of self-confessed 'low life scum' Naoise and Liam Og, the sound of Irish music is changed forever.

Under the name Kneecap, their band begin moulding the language to fit their tough, anarchic and hedonistic lives. A language encumbered with forty words for stone now has one for stoned. But to get their voices heard the trio must overcome police, paramilitaries and politicians as the future status of the Irish language erupts into the public arena. Yet their worst enemies are often themselves, as their illegal exploits, families and relationship pressures threaten to pull the plug on their dreams.

Across the globe a language dies every two weeks. This is a darkly comic story about our intrinsic human urge for identity; whether personal, political or artistic.

My Extinction

DOC

Synopsis

What does it take for us to act on the climate crisis – especially if we're the kind of person who should already be acting? In this funny, relatable portrait, a concerned yet ineffectual dad finds the first step is letting those unbearable feelings of climate anxiety in, instead of pushing them aside. But as he meets others like him, he discovers how oil-backed propagandists funded our denial and paralysis. He sets out to unmask the vested interests responsible, helping raise a generation's leading authors in a vibrant chorus.

MY EXTINCTION is a revealingly honest account of how to feel your feelings, act on your privilege, and get active when threatened with extinction.

My Husband, the Cyborg

Synopsis

In September 2016, Susanna Cappellaro's husband told her he was going to become a cyborg. She immediately began filming his radical new path, the impact on their relationship, and her own deep dive into the world of transhumanism. Susanna's fight to maintain her altered relationship leads us to consider the wider impact of technology on the future of humanity as we know it.

The Nettle Dress

Synopsis

Textile artist Allan Brown spends seven years making a dress by hand, just from the fibre of locally foraged stinging nettles. This is 'hedgerow couture', the greenest of slow fashion, and it is also Allan's medicine. It's how he survives the death of his wife that left him and their children bereft, and how he finds a beautiful way to honour her.

The challenge of making zero carbon clothing sourced within a few miles of his home means re-learning ancient crafts and recalls the fairy tale 'Wild Swans'.

THE NETTLE DRESS follows Allan's whole journey through all the seasons and years. Foraging, spinning, weaving, cutting and sewing the cloth. Finally the healing vision of the dress back in the woods where the nettles were picked, worn by one of his daughters. 'Grasping the Nettle' is at the heart of the film. Making a dress this way becomes devotional, with every thread representing hours of mindful loving craft. Over seven years Allan is transformed by the process just as the nettles are. Both the film and dress, a hand-spun labour of love in the truest sense, THE NETTLE DRESS is a modern-day fairytale and hymn to the healing power of nature and slow craft.

The Old Man and the Land

Synopsis

An old farmer works his land like he always has, though his powers are waning. He loves his flock and his farm, even though the work is gruelling, and the seasons are getting harder to weather. He's tied to the land that his forefathers farmed before him. But who will he leave it to in turn, when the time finally does come, for him to let go? His son and his daughter are both unfit, in their own ways, to take over. His daughter knows farming, but she doesn't know sacrifice. His son's only interest in the farm is as a property to sell, not as a repository of a family's history, a lineage of their connection to the land. His children bicker over this inheritance, while he quietly, stoically, phlegmatically, with what is left of his powers, continues his long indentureship to the land.

On the Line

Synopsis

Alderney, UK. 1964. Agnes, 24 works alone as a switchboard operator in a telephone exchange. While going about her daily business connecting people, she passes the time listening in to their conversations. One day, she receives a strange call from Shirley, a woman suffering from dementia and unable to clearly articulate what is happening around her. There's a blood curdling scream and the line is cut. Extremely worried, Agnes calls the police.

Over time, Agnes gleans information from other callers, piecing together what has happened and comes to believe Martha, a nurse at the care home, has been kidnapped by Harold, a workman there. Agnes uses her powers of deduction and local knowledge to help the police track the abduction. But things take a turn for the worse when she realises everything is not as it seems. Eventually, the police locate Martha but not Harold. He has returned home to take his own life. With new information, Agnes calls and talks him down by sharing her experiences. Her day ends with both Harold and Agnes having new hope for the future.

One Bullet

DOC

Synopsis

A real war story is not the story of men at war. A haunting encounter with a boy injured by a random bullet sends director Carol Dysinger to investigate what happened to him, who fired the shot, who is responsible? During her fifteen years following the war in Afghanistan, she often finds herself behind the curtains of an Afghan home where Bibi Hajji maintains her extended family – struggling with her grief and her remaining sons' anger and pain at the loss of their brother. ONE BULLET evolves from a procedural to an excavation of human loss and the redemption of female friendship. How do we deal with guilt and injury across vast social, cultural and religious divides? Ask two tough old broads drinking tea.

Otto Baxter: Not a Fucking Horror Story

DOC

Synopsis

BAFTA-winning filmmakers Bruce Fletcher and Peter Beard follow their close friend Otto Baxter, a man with Down Syndrome, through a year of change as he writes and directs his first film; an allegorical horror biopic set in Victorian London charting the life of a monster baby on the rocky path to escape incarceration and become his own master.

Otto has recently experienced bereavement and family health scares that have forced him to think about mortality for the first time – his own and those closest to him. Otto has always turned to films to make sense of the world, and this moment is no exception. Through the writing and directing process, he finds the vocabulary to process his past and imagine his uncertain future. He tackles his demons head on, but always with a riotous sense of humour. Otto's extraordinary upbringing has meant his life has always played out on camera to some extent. This rich archive will be blended with drama and present day footage in this intimate documentary, to tell the compelling story of Otto and his family, placing it firmly in the context of the UK's evolving attitudes to disability over his lifetime.

Point of Change

DOC

Synopsis

When two young surfers from Australia want to escape the political climate of their home in the 1970s, they set off in search of their idea of 'santosh'; a perfect location with a perfect wave. Their dream came true and they found their holy grail when they stumbled across Lagundi Bay, on the remote island of Nias in Indonesia and 'discovered' one of the best right hand waves in the world. Unwittingly Kevin Lovett and John Giesel were the new colonials wearing different hats, walking into an entirely different culture and community, completely unaware of the impact their arrival would unleash.

An 'idyllic' island community dramatically changed forever by the 'discovery' of the 'perfect' wave in the 1970s. The remarkable and previously untold true story of the first surf pioneers to 'discover' the 'Point' on the isolated Indonesian island of Nias and the dramatic consequences and the devastating social and ecological repercussions for the people and place that followed. A contemporary, cautionary tale of paradise lost.

A compelling and dramatic documentary feature film told through a unique blend of previously unseen Super 8 archive, contemporary interview and beautiful animation, with an original score composed by Academy Award- winning composer Stephen Warbeck and featuring exclusive new music tracks by Paul Oakenfold and local musicians, to reveal an all too resonant picture of a society changed inexorably by powerful economic and environmental forces outside of their control.

Synopsis

Filmed over the course of five years, following Borja, a young boy, who grows up oppressed by the weight of his family's hopes and the lack of options for his own future. Like most kids in his provincial Spanish town of Castellon, Borja doesn't see a future outside of the town's parameters beyond orange fields, farming, fishing and bullfighting.

Borja and his younger brother are being raised by their mother who struggles to make ends meet and patriarch grandfather Matias who pins his own unfulfilled dreams of becoming a professional bullfighter onto his grandchild, with the hopes that it will get the family out of poverty. But the reality of bullfighting today is not as grandfather remembers it, yet the family believes Borja will be the one who will make it against all odds.

Scala Club Cinema

Synopsis

Based on the award-winning book 'Scala Cinema 1978-1993' by Jane Giles (FAB Press, 2018) this feature-length big screen documentary tells the riotous inside story of the infamous sex, drugs and rock 'n' roll rep house which inspired a generation during Britain's turbulent Thatcher years.

The film combines 50 new interviews with diverse audience members who went on to become filmmakers, musicians, writers, actors and artists, combined with previously unseen archive material and iconic movie clips.

With its universal themes of youthful discovery and the underdog vs. the establishment, this is no nostalgia trip but rather a film of universal relevance with clear parallels between then and now. Above all, it's a hilarious and joyous celebration of cinema-going.

Synopsis

Adam works nightshifts at a motorway service station and lives a small, restricted and lonely life. Upon hearing that his estranged father, Hassan, has died, Adam finds himself in search of answers. Starting to piece together a complicated image of his father, Adam learns that after leaving the family Hassan had started to believe he had been 'sent to earth from somewhere far away'.

Initially dismissive, Adam's mind is soon drawn to the strange episodes he has been having, in which he blacks out and can feel something trying to communicate with him. He thinks about his inability to communicate and connect with people. He thinks about how he's never fit in. Adam begins to ask himself if his father really was a being from another world, then what does that make him?

The Smallest Things

DOC

Synopsis

On a bright January morning in 2020, 38 year old Clemmie suffered a catastrophic brain haemorrhage. Just a few hours earlier, she'd been a star on the rise - acclaimed broadcaster, writer and musician. Against the odds she emerged from a 17 day coma but, unable to speak or walk, she was now faced with having to rebuild her life.

With compelling recordings of her early attempts to speak and walk, we follow Clemmie as she tries to return to work, to finish the book she'd started before her brain injury, and to play her beloved violin again with her son. The film interweaves verité filming with touching home movies and lyrical sequences of Clemmie struggling amidst the cacophony of New York's streets. Counterpointed throughout are majestic pieces of music from her book. She's defiant and refuses self-pity, but is haunted by the knowledge that her brain could bleed again at any moment. A film about resilience, rediscovery and identity.

Starve Acre

Synopsis

1970s, rural England. Richard and Juliette's seemingly idyllic family life is thrown into turmoil when their son Ewan starts acting out of character, creating an insurmountable wedge between the once happy couple.

At Starve Acre, their remote family home, archaeologist Richard buries himself in exploring a folkloric myth that the ancient oak tree on their land is imbued with phenomenal powers. While Juliette turns to the local community to find some kind of peace, Richard obsessively digs deeper.

An unexpected discovery soon occupies the couple's attention and dark and sinister forces, unwittingly allowed into the home, offer a disturbing possibility of reconnection between them.

Stephen

Synopsis

Ste Giddings comes from a family of addicts stretching back generations. At 26 he was ready to give up on life. STEPHEN is a formally inventive and thought-provoking movie that takes audiences on an intimate journey into two characters, one real, one fictional. It is a fiction film that incorporates elements of real life, the real experience of Ste Giddings and an ensemble of charismatic characters, all having lived experience of addiction and recovery.

The film follows Ste as he auditions for and takes on a role in a fiction film while retelling moments from his chaotic past and transforming his life in the real world. Using his personal experience as an alcoholic/addict he takes on the role of a gambling addict, and gradually the two begin to merge. This film-within-the-film is a genre crime movie, inspired by a famous Mitchell & Kenyon film, held at the BFI National Archive: ARREST OF GOUDIE, 1901 - the world's first crime-reconstruction and the first film produced in Liverpool, Ste's home-town and this film's location. ARREST OF GOUDIE is based on the real-life story of a compulsive gambler embezzling £170,000 from The Bank of Liverpool, where he worked as a clerk. STEPHEN presents alternative perspectives and offers cathartic, cinematic experiences to re-think, understand and deal with urgent social questions including alcohol/drug addictions, gambling addictions, economic inequalities, issues of loneliness and mental health. At this moment in time, these issues are more urgent, pressing and pertinent than ever.

Stigma

Synopsis

A single mother living on the borderline struggles to overcome the loss of a close childhood friend who tragically passed away in one of the worst man-made UK disasters of recent time; the Grenfell Tower Fire of June 2017.

Her situation spirals out of control and takes its toll, to the point where she questions her very existence. Pushed onto the fringes of society and joining the many who have had their voices forgotten, a chance encounter offers a ray of hope, but the question is whether it's all come too late?

Stolen

DOC

Synopsis

STOLEN is the story of women who had the misfortune to fall pregnant 'out of wedlock' in an Ireland that heavily influenced by the Catholic Church. Over 80,000 unmarried mothers were incarcerated in institutions run by nuns from 1922 to 1998. Mothers and babies were cruelly separated shortly after birth with thousands of babies taken for adoption and their birth records rendered untraceable. 9,000 infants died from 1922 to 1998, a rate sometimes five times the national average. Others were fostered out as cheap farm labour from the age of six.

It was a history that was largely ignored until the discovery that 796 babies had died between 1925 and 1961 in the Tuam Mother and Baby Home alone. Evidence of tiny remains found in an underground sewage plant on the site of the former home caused outrage and alarm escalated over what happened in other institutions such as Bessborough in Cork and Sean Ross Abbey in Tipperary where more children died without burial records. The Irish government announced an investigation into Mother and Baby homes.

Survivors relate their experiences of cruelty and loss and of happier outcomes in some cases, interwoven with historical analysis and artists' responses to what happened.

Sweet Sue

Synopsis

Sue is now back on the dating scene. She meets a mysterious biker called Ron at her brother's funeral and sparks fly. But when Ron introduces her to his social-media focused son Anthony, Sue finds herself in an increasingly surreal battle of wills with this ambitious teenager who, despite showing no signs of talent, is convinced that his dance troupe 'Electric Destiny' is tipped for stardom. Will she find the purpose and imagination to bring this little unconventional family together for a chance at happiness?

Tell Them You Love Me

Synopsis

A feature-length documentary exploring the case of Anna Stubblefield who was found guilty in 2015 of aggravated sexual assault against Derrick Johnson, a non-verbal man with cerebral palsy.

Anna claims that they had fallen in love after she helped 'unlock' his mind from his disabled body using a controversial communication method. Through intimate interviews and testimony with the main characters on both sides of the case, the film tells the powerfully nuanced story at the intersection of disability, race and sex.

Timestalker

Synopsis

From the creative team behind PREVENGE comes... Timestalker, a romantic comedy about the eternal humiliation that is the search for love, spanning the most romantic epochs of history right into the future.

Timestalker follows hapless heroine Agnes (Alice Lowe) through time as she repeatedly falls for the wrong guy, dies a grim death, gets reincarnated a century later, before meeting him again and starting the cycle anew. It is one story told over many periods, all with the messy thrills and spills that come with daring to follow your heart. Or maybe your loins...

Agnes' only hope in avoiding this violent fate is by finally reaching spiritual enlightenment; but how can she ever wise up when she's destined to be a fool for love? Some lessons are just too hard to learn in one lifetime.

Where is Heaven?

Synopsis

Filmmakers Gerard Bryan and David Rafique are on a mission through winding lanes and hidden tracks of North Devon, to record the lives and experiences of people whose one common link is living without mains electricity. With no particular political or ecological agenda the aim is to capture not only the beauty of this sometimes harsh environment but also the spirit of the wonderful off-grid characters who live there.

A diverse group of people whose stories at first appear meandering tributaries but quickly swell to become a delicate weave of philosophies and vibrant wit uniting around our common search for happiness. A perfect antidote to the intensity of life in modern Britain. WHERE IS HEAVEN? is charged with a seductive charm not supplied by the National Grid.

A Year in a Field

Synopsis

An ancient monolith stands sentinel in a Cornish field for millennia. Part provocation, part meditation, part invocation, BAFTA-winning documentarian Christopher Morris's A YEAR IN A FIELD is a record of their brief interaction.

Morris invites us to slow down, as he films for a year in a West Cornwall field; to immerse ourselves in this quiet, direct-action of stillness, to take a breath and reflect on the planetary impacts of our brief human existence, under the watchful gaze of the Longstone, a 4,000-year-old standing stone that predominates this elemental landscape.

From Winter Solstice 2020 to Winter Solstice 2021, a string of unprecedented worldwide climate disasters, met by weak global political resolve, are revealed as just fleeting moments, under the ever-present unflinching granite gaze of the Longstone.

As the wheel of the year turns, Morris's ecosophical polemic unearths a mythic reality buried just below the furrowed soil of our consumerist age, suggesting, perhaps, that whilst time may feel like it's running away at an ever-increasing rate, it's not too late to pause, reflect, and change.
